The band performs and promotes itself worldwide through various agents only under the names of: 'THE ANIMALS III' or 'ANIMALS 3' and no other variation of this name can be used.

The above names are registered trading names of the band Animals III (herein called the band) comprising in part of Martin Bland and Steve Hutchinson. The user agrees not to use the name Animals III, Animals 3, or it's logos without prior permission, and in all cases only in relation to the promotion of the band. As a recognised promoter or selling agent of the band, we will allow you to use our registered trading name and logo in advertising material and on websites only for the purposes of advertising or promoting the band or the band's concert. At no time will this give any further rights to the name, or rights to use the name for any other purpose.

The band will refuse to perform at any concert where it has been made known to them that a concert is being promoted by incorrect wording on posters, incorrect media articles, or the use of any name different to one of those listed above, without being corrected.

The official posters of the band, and the band's website, clearly promote the band as 'ANIMALS III' or 'ANIMALS 3'

Official posters to be used for the promotion of Animals III concerts can be easily downloaded from the 'Download Official Posters' page in the 'Information for Promoters' section of the Animals III website.

Although the band is very pro-active in monitoring the advertising of its concerts, it can sometimes be very difficult to notice mistakes when dealing with foreign countries due to language unfamiliarity. The band do however operate a strict policy of cancelling any performance where they feel that the advertising may in any way be misleading, and steps have not been made to correct the mistake.

The band welcomes the reporting to them of any advertising that may be seen as misleading.

At all times The Animals III aim to promote their band in a very legitimate and professional manner.

The band and its members do not in any way claim that they represent, or are affiliated to, The Animals, Eric Burdon and The Animals, or any of the other bands or musicians whose songs are featured in their show.

DISCLAIMER

The band or it's management cannot be held responsible for any misleading promotion created by third party advertisers or media journalism published without their consent, or for any publicity that has not been created or distributed by The Animals III. Any such claim made against Animals III will be referred to the creator of the offending publication or article.
